Subject: Coronavirus (COVID-19) impact on peer assessments and ISO/IEC 17025:2017 transition plan

Dear Member Bodies, NCBs and Assessors,

As the coronavirus threat spreads to even more countries and regions, the IECEE Secretariat is learning of more and more travel related restriction imposed on peer assessors. With the increase of travel restrictions, we are faced with a shortage of peer assessors and replacement peer assessors for previously scheduled assessments.

Due to the peer assessor shortage, daily changes in corporate travel policies and uncertainty of the overall situation on a global level, the IECEE Secretariat is no longer able reassign assessment teams or assessors for previously scheduled assessments when an assessor or assessment team is subject to travel restrictions.

Sensitive to the situation, the IECEE Secretariat will allow the delay and postponements of assessments when caused by the impact of the coronavirus situation, with no consequence to the assessed organization. The IECEE Secretariat also requests organization scheduled to be assessed, which are delayed or postponed due availability of an assessment team, remain patient until such time as there is a substantial improvement in the situation and the assessment can be logically rescheduled.

The IECEE Secretariat appreciates and embraces assessments that can still be carried out where travel restrictions and other measures do not have an impact on the schedule. However, we strongly encourage these assessment teams and assessed organizations to exercise prudent precautionary measures and stay informed of the latest advisories.

Impact to ISO/IEC 17025:2017 CBTL/SPTL Transition Plan (IECEE-CMC/2034/RCMC)

It has been decided to extend the deadline stated in IECEE-CMC/2034/RCMC for transitioning to ISO/IEC 17025:2017 beyond November 30, 2020, if the accreditation body could not conduct the assessment of the CBTLs/SPTLs because of the COVID-19 situation. The NCB shall provide suitable evidence to the Secretariat from the accreditation body, which expresses they could not conduct the assessment due to the COVID-19 situation, e.g. e-mail or letter directly from the accreditation body.

The IECEE Secretariat is closely monitoring this situation and will provide updated information as warranted by developments in the COVID-19 situation. To assist us in this, we call upon the membership to notify us promptly of any localized developments and of any compulsory travel restrictions within your organization.
